Junior High Students Take Up New Quarters Following Fire

Classes resumed here Tuesday for students in the Hamlin Public Schools following the spring holidays. but for some 200 students it was not classes as usual. These students lost their school building during the week break and had to find their way to new quarters.

A fire, of still undetermined origin, completely destroyed the junior high schoolauditorum here last Wednesday morning and left the 207 students without their regular classrooms, books and other classroom needs.

As of Tuesday, the board of trustees of the School District still did not know how much insurance the district would collect on the fire that burned for several hours before being brought under control by members of several area

Volunteer Fire Departments. Bob Hawes, superintendent, said that seventh and eighth grade students are attending classes in the Remedial Reading Center building, which in years past was the Elementary School Building. One section of the sixth grade will also hold classes in this building and the other two sections will meet in the Elementary

The junior high students will continue to be bussed to the high school for lunch.

Since the school will probably have to use these temporary quarters next year. Hawes said that he hoped that some improvements could be made this summer. Evaporative coolers will be installed in the classrooms as soon as possible, he added.

One of the major concerns

of the administration is the loss of the science facilities in the fire. Hawes said that for the present the school will have to use portable type science facilit for the

Hawes said that all of the plans for the remodeling of the Remedial Reading Center into an Early Childhood Development Center will have to be delayed until the school can come up with a new junior high building. Plans were already being made to remodel the building this summer to house several of the district's newer programs. Included in this would have been both a migrant kindergarten and an early childhood kindergarten program, an adult education center as well as the remedial reading program.

When the fire destroyed the junior high building it contained 14 classrooms, a science lab, the unused cafeteria, a library, auditorium and a gym. All of the classrooms were in use at the time of the spring break. Although the cafeteria was not in use, the area was being used for choral work and the old gym was used for the junior high off-season sports program.

met to make any future plans and were not expected to meet until after hearing from the insurance companies

The building, constructed in 1930, was originally the high school building until 1968 when the present high school building was completed. At that time it became the junior school building and served that purpose until the fire.

Other than possible roof and smoke damage, the public school gymnasium was not damaged.

The local Volunteer Fire Department was assisted by units from Anson, Stamford, Aspermont and Haskell. A total of about 100 firemen used eight trucks and two snorkels from A&J Construction Co. in Stamford to battle the early morning fire.

Waggoner Drug to Close After Nearly 70 Years

Waggoner Drug, one of the oldest drug businesses in West Texas, is closing its doors, according to Jerry and Verlene Waggoner, owners. The firm was founded in 1906 and has been in continuous operation by the family since that time

The Waggoners announced this week that they have sold all of their prescription drugs and prescription files to C. L. Howard Drug Co.

Both Jerry and Verlene plan to devote full time to their Farmers Insurance Group Agency and their real estate business as soon as they can complete the closing of the drug store. The Insurance Agency will continue to be operated in its present location, the former location of the Hamlin BCD

Jerry Waggoner is the third generation to operate the drug store here in Hamlin. The firm would have celebrated its 70th anniversary June 1

The firm was established in 1906 by Jerry's grandfather, Jerry J. Waggoner, who operated the business until his death in 1944.

His son Frank G., who was six years of age when the family moved here, was associated with the store all of his life. He became a licensed pharmacist Jan. 18,

1921. He operated the firm until his death in October, 1970. His son, Jerry F., began working in the store while in high school

The business was opened in the third business building in the townsite of Hamlin in 1906. Later, in 1909, the firm moved to the present location after completion of a new structure. At one time, four doctors and one dentist had offices above the drug store.

Mr. and Mrs. Waggoner have operated the store since his father's death in 1970. His mother was active in the operation of the firm until a serious fall forced her

'Booster Band' Pin Given to Stage Band

A well cared for "Hamlin Booster Band" pin is now in the possession of the Hamlin Band as a result of the publicity received by the Hamlin Stage Band and its efforts to tour Europe this summer.

The three-part pin, inscribed with the words, "1911 - For Service To - Hamlin Booster Band," was mailed to C. L. Howard this week by Mrs. Price Self of Tuscola.

In a letter to Howard, Mrs. Self said, "The articles (in The Abilene Reporter-News) made me recall a pin I found in the dust of the road from Buffalo Gap, Texas to Abilene Lake. My sister and I think the Hamlin Booster Band may have played at the dedication of Abilene Lake when it was completed. At least I found the pin soon after that event in about 1922.

"I was nine years old at the time and for the fifty-three years since I have always kept it - first in my 'little girl treasure box' and for years now in a candy box with old 'keep sake' jewelry and old coins," she

Mrs. Self suggested that the Stage Band might want to "auction it off" but apparently the pin will be kept on display by

Welfare Reform Act Introduced

WASHINGTON, D. C. - A number of us in the U.S. House of representatives recently introduced a welfare reform act that will save the taxpayers at least $1.5 billion. The legislation has more than 50 sponsors.

At a news conference held in the Capitol at the time the legislation was introduced, it was pointed out that, "It is time that we limited public welfare to its original purpose - helping those who are really incapable of helping themselves. We do not believe that able-bodied citizens should be permitted to enjoy a relaxed lifestyle at the taxpayers' expense.

(April 1, 1965) The Hamlin Cemetery Association is beginning work on the annual clean-up of lots, according to Miss Lennie Greenway, a spokesman for the association. Winners in Tuesday evening's meeting of the Hamlin Duplicate Bridge Club were Preston Morrow of Rotan and Mrs. Don Hymer, first; Mrs. Floyd Briscoe and Mrs. W. O. Willbanks, second; and Harry Yates of Stamford and Floyd Briscoe, third.

A free health clinic will be held for all the children who will be starting to school next September. The pre-school clinic will be held at the primary school, Thursday, Apr. 8, at 1 p.m.

Mrs. Richard Young Jr., will be the speaker for the Hamlin Parent-Teacher Association meeting at 4 p.m. today in the primary cafetorium. Theme for the meeting will be "Together We Help a Child: by Creating a Love for Learning.

The first Hamlin Junior Relays will be held Friday at the Pied Piper Track Field. From 300 to 400 boys are expected to compete from eight schools over the area.

facilities we lost the other night and no one wanted to go into a building program at the present time, but now is not the time to look back. Now is the time to make the best of this situation and plan for an even better future.

The Hamlin schools have needed an auditorium for some time - in fact, the need was great when the new high school was built. Let's replace both the auditorium and the junior high with modern adequate facilities. It is still too early to make any committments as to the size or location for such facilities. These are questions on which the school board will need to spend some time.

Right now it is the job of the public to offer encouragement to these men as they face a most difficult task in the months ahead.

As we have said here before, we do not know too much about economics, but we still are not too sure about this rebate program just signed by the President. Now don't get us wrong, if they are going to pass out this money, then we plan to take our share.

But the whole thing is a mystery to me. As James Roberts wrote last week in his Andrews paper, "It's kinda like your best friend, who already owes you $100 promising to pay you back - - if you'll loan him another $100."

Uncle Sam is already running about $27 billion in the red and is expected to go in the hole by something like $70 to $100 billion during the coming year. It might be simpler to let the taxpaper go borrow the rebate money. . . his credit is probably better than Uncle Sam's anyway.

THOSE WONDERFUL YEARS...

They shall abundantly utter the goodness . . . The Lord has blessed us with children and now grandchildren. Our lives, and now theirs have been molded in the church. One generation shall praise thu works to another, and shall declare thy mighty acts. Pass on this priceless heritage to your children and grandchildren.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

GUTTED REMAINS OF STATELY EDIFICE—The public school building that served Hamlin for over 45 years still shows strength and majesty even though only the walls remain after the Mar. 26 destructive fire. The building on Southwest Ave. B was built in 1929 as a high school building and the first class to graduate from the auditorium, to the left, was the Class of 1930. In 1969, after the completition of a new high school building on Southwest Ave. F, this building was converted into the junior high school.

LAST CURTAIN CALL-When the curtain came down on the final act of the Junior Class play Mar. 20, no one could have know that it would be the last public performance to be staged in the public school auditorium in the junior high school building. Here, the twisted beams, the crumbled walls are all that remain of a facility that had accommodated as many as 1,000 (according to early day newspaper reports). The structure was destroyed by fire during the early morning hours Wednesday, Mar. 26.

Cancer's Warning Signals

"If you don't know Cancer's Warning Signals, how do you know you haven't got one?" says Mrs. Othell Sipe, chairman of the Hamlin Cancer Crusade.

That's a good question, and everyone in Hamlin along with volunteers of the American Cancer Society as the Society's annual fundraising and educational Crusade gets underway this The local drive will be held here by volunteers under the direction of Mrs. Sipe. The drive opens Apr. 8 and the main door-to-door canvass will be held Thursday, Apr.

Cancer is a silent, usually painless disease in its early stages and so often its Warning Signals are fairly common complaints - things like heartburn or a cough or a change in bathroom habits.

'Common complaints, but they are man's valuable clues to cancer - a disease that has to be caught early and treated promptly and properly for the best chance of cure," Mrs. Sipe explained

This April, the ACS fundraising and educational Crusade involves the teaching of cancer's Seven Warning Signals. This teaching is being done by ACS volunteers in person, by the Society through the press and on TV; and especially by the distribution of a colorful leaflet. "Actually, 45 million of these leaflets will be passed out nationwide!" she

Altogether, the Warning Signals spell out the word CAUTION. Here's how: Change in bowel or bladder

A sore that does not heal; Unusual bleeding or discharge;

Thickening or lump in the breast or elsewhere; Indigestion or difficulty in swallowing;

Obvious change in a wart or

Nagging cough or hoarse-

"All of these signs are rather ordinary, but if a condition persists - see a physician. Remember this is Warning Signal, not a it's one that is being asked of diagnosis of cancer. But it's up to a physician to understand what your body is trying to tell you. If it's a flase alarm, he'll tell you. If it isn't, you will have reached him in time for help."

> As this ACS volunteer put it, "Our slogan this year is everyone's dream - "We Want to Wipe Out Cancer in Your Lifetime." To do that we need your dollars to support vital research and programs of public and professional education, and service, and rehabilitation to the cancer patient, Mrs. Sipe added

AUSTIN — Constitutional revision, widely regarded as an almost impossible task for the legislature this year, may be moving along faster than any of the session's "big three" items.

Revision panels of the House and Senate voted out proposals almost identical to the document which failed by three votes in the 1974 Constitutional Convention. Education finance reform and utilities regulation have not moved so far so fast.

Senators brought up the plan Tuesday (April 1) for floor consideration on an article-by-article basis.

The House is expected to follow the same procedure. A two-thirds vote will be necessary on each article before it can be submitted to the voters for approval or rejection in a state-wide election next November.

None of the controversial "separate submission" items like right-to-work-which split and doomed the 1974 convention-are included in the present resolutions.

Apparently, if article-byarticle revision fails, the legislature will offer a plan for a new citizens' convention to try its hand at revision next year.

CANCER WARNING SIGNALS—

Watch That Cough

The Senate State Affairs Committee gave its approval to a revised and improved version of the House-passed primary bill, and quick Senate passage was anticipated.

The measure still calls for a vote in May on presidential candidates who decide to enter the Texas primary. Seventy-five per cent of the state's presidential nominating delegates will be named on a senatorial (or congressional) district basis. Another 25 per cent will be selected in state party conventions in accord with the percentage of the vote various candidates received in the primary.

An objectionable feature of the House bill which would have required candidates to file slates of delegates in all 31 senatorial districts to get on the ballot at all was removed. Liberal provisions also were made for uncommitted delegates to run individually or as a slate.

SPEED LIMIT SAME Legislators finally agreed on, and the governor signed, legislation extending the 55 miles per hour speed limit to comply with federal policies and save $303 million a year in federal highway aid.

A threatened deadlock was quickly broken in the face of threats of heavy loss of federal funds. The present 55 mph law would have expired April 1.

NEWS AND VIEWS .... And What Have You By BOB CRAIG

A great many people lost an old friend last week when fire destroyed the junior high school building and the auditorium. To most of these people it was not the junior high building that burned. but their old high school building.

Even though the building had not served as a high school since 1969, still most of the Hamlin exes around attended classes and graduated from the building between the time it was built in 1930 and the time it was converted to a junior high school building in 1969.

Now the inside of the building might not have been as functional as some of the newer buildings around and it is doubtful if anyone claimed that the auditorium was one of the best around, but one had to look a long time to find a building as beautiful as this one.

When you travel around the country and seek the old school buildings that are still being used. you find that most of them have that rundown appearance and you have the feeling that they need to be replaced before they fall in on someone. But this was never the case with our building. It was even majestic as it was being destroyed by fire and it was not until after daylight and the fire had completed its destruction that it took on that look of disaster.

The people of Hamlin owe a great debt of gratitude to the many people from around the area that -Continued on page 4

Junior High Students Take Up New Quarters Following Fire

Classes resumed here Tuesday for students in the Hamlin Public Schools following the spring holidays. but for some 200 students it was not classes as usual. These students lost their school building during the week break and had to find their way to new quarters.

A fire, of still undetermined origin, completely destroyed the junior high schoolauditorum here last Wednesday morning and left the 207 students without their regular classrooms, books and other classroom needs

As of Tuesday, the board of trustees of the School District still did not know how much insurance the district would collect on the fire that burned for several hours before being brought under control by members of several area Volunteer Fire Departments.

Bob Hawes, superintendent, said that seventh and eighth grade students are attending classes in the Remedial Reading Center building, which in years past was the Elementary School Building. One section of the sixth grade will also hold classes in this building and the other two sections will meet in the Elementary Building.

The junior high students will continue to be bussed to the high school for lunch.

Since the school will probably have to use these temporary quarters next year, Hawes said that he hoped that some improvements could be made this summer. Evaporative coolers will be installed in the classrooms as soon as possible, he added.

One of the major concerns

of the administration is the loss of the science facilities in the fire. Hawes said that for the present the school will have to use portable type science facilit for the

Hawes said that all of the plans for the remodeling of the Remedial Reading Center into an Early Childhood Development Center will have to be delayed until the school can come up with a new junior high building. Plans were already being made to remodel the building of the district's newer programs. Included in this would have been both a migrant kindergarten and an early childhood kindergarten program, an adult education center as well as the remedial reading program.

When the fire destroyed the junior high building it contained 14 classrooms, a science lab, the unused cafeteria, a library, auditorium and a gym. All of the classrooms were in use at the time of the spring break. Although the cafeteria was not in use, the area was being used for choral work and the old gym was used for the junior high off-season sports

The School Board has not met to make any future plans and were not expected to meet until after hearing from the insurance companies involved in the loss.

The building, constructed in 1930, was originally the high school building until 1968 when the present high school building was completed. At that time it became the junior school building and served that purpose until the fire.

Other than possible roof and smoke damage, the public school gymnasium was not damaged.

The local Volunteer Fire Department was assisted by units from Anson, Stamford, total of about 100 firemen used eight trucks and two snorkels from A&J Construction Co. in Stamford to battle the early morning fire.

Waggoner Drug to Close After Nearly 70 Years

Waggoner Drug, one of the oldest drug businesses in West Texas, is closing its doors, according to Jerry and Verlene Waggoner, owners. The firm was founded in 1906 and has been in continuous operation by the family since

The Waggoners announced this week that they have sold all of their prescription drugs and prescription files to C. L. Howard Drug Co.

Both Jerry and Verlene plan to devote full time to their Farmers Insurance Group Agency and their real estate business as soon as they can complete the closing of the drug store. The Insurance Agency will continue to be operated in its present location, the former location of the Hamlin BCD. Jerry Waggoner is the third generation to operate the drug store here in Hamlin. The firm would have celebrated its 70th anniversary June 1

The firm was established in 1906 by Jerry's grandfather, Jerry J. Waggoner, who operated the business until his death in 1944.

His son Frank G., who was six years of age when the family moved here, was associated with the store all of his life. He became a licensed pharmacist Jan. 18.

1921. He operated the firm until his death in October. 1970. His son, Jerry F., began working in the store while in high school.

The business was opened in the third business building in the townsite of Hamlin in 1906. Later, in 1909, the firm moved to the present location after completion of a new structure. At one time, four doctors and one dentist had offices above the drug store.

Mr. and Mrs. Waggoner have operated the store since his father's death in 1970. His mother was active in the operation of the firm until a serious fall forced her

'Booster Band' Pin Given to Stage Band

A well cared for "Hamlin Booster Band" pin is now in the possession of the Hamlin Band as a result of the publicity received by the Hamlin Stage Band and its efforts to tour Europe this summer.

The three-part pin, inscribed with the words, "1911 - For Service To - Hamlin Booster Band," was mailed to C. L. Howard this week by Mrs. Price Self of Tuscola.

In a letter to Howard, Mrs. Self said, "The articles (in The Abilene Reporter-News) made me recall a pin I found in the dust of the road from Buffalo Gap, Texas to Abilene Lake. My sister and I think the Hamlin Booster Band may have played at the dedication of Abilene Lake when it was completed. At least I found the pin soon after that event in about 1922.

"I was nine years old at the time and for the fifty-three years since I have always kept it - first in my 'little girl treasure box' and for years now in a candy box with old 'keep sake' jewelry and old coins," she

Mrs. Self suggested that the Stage Band might want to "auction it off" but apparently the pin will be kept on display by the local band.

Apparently the Hamlin Booster Band was a community band as the public school bands did not come into being until a later

(Editor's note: The Herald files do not go back past 1914 and no mention of the Hamlin Booster Band could be found in that volume)

BOY SCOUTS HELP WITH MOVING-Boys from the local Boy Scout troop help Tim Jones, band director, move band equipment from the band hall at the public school gymnasium to the elementary building. The junior high school band will use the band hall which was used when the junior high school was located in what is now the elementary building. The moving started Thursday after the junior high school building on Southwest Avenue B was destroyed by fire Wednesday.

Welfare Reform Act Introduced

number of us in the U.S. House of representatives recently introduced a welfare reform act that will save the taxpayers at least $1.5 billion. The legislation has more than 50 sponsors.

At a news conference held in the Capitol at the time the legislation was introduced, it was pointed out that, "It is time that we limited public welfare to its original purpose - helping those who are really incapable of helping themselves. We do not believe that able-bodied citizens should be permitted to enjoy a relaxed lifestyle at the taxpayers' expense.

Mrs. Richard Young Jr., will be the speaker for the Hamlin Parent-Teacher Association meeting at 4 p.m. today in the primary cafetorium. Theme for the meeting will be "Together We Help a Child: by Creating a Love for Learning.

The first Hamlin Junior Relays will be held Friday at the Pied Piper Track Field. From 300 to 400 boys are expected to compete from eight schools over the area.

facilities we lost the other night and no one wanted to go into a building program at the present time, but now is not the time to look back. Now is the time to make the best of this situation and plan for an even better future.

The Hamlin schools have needed an auditorium for some time — in fact, the need was great when the new high school was built. Let's replace both the auditorium and the junior high with modern adequate facilities. It is still too early to make any committments as to the size or location for such facilities. These are questions on which the school board will need to spend some time.

Right now it is the job of the public to offer encouragement to these men as they face a most difficult task in the months ahead.

As we have said here before, we do not know too much about economics, but we still are not too sure about this rebate program just signed by the President. Now don't get us wrong, if they are going to pass out this money, then we plan to take our share.

But the whole thing is a mystery to me. As James Roberts wrote last week in his Andrews paper, "It's kinda like your best friend, who already owes you $100 promising to pay you back - - if you'll loan him another $100."

Uncle Sam is already running about $27 billion in the red and is expected to go in the hole by something like $70 to $100 billion during the coming year. It might be simpler to let the taxpaper go borrow the rebate money. . . his credit is probably better than Uncle Sam's anyway.

THOSE WONDERFUL

They shall abundantly utter the goodness... The Lord has blessed us with children and molded in the church. One thy works to another, and shall declare thy mighty acts. Pass on this priceless heritage to

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

GUTTED REMAINS OF STATELY EDIFICE—The public school building that served Hamlin for over 45 years still shows strength and majesty even though only the walls remain after the Mar. 26 destructive fire. The building on Southwest Ave. B was built in 1929 as a high school building and the first class to graduate from the auditorium, to the left, was the Class of 1930. In 1969, after the completition of a new high school building on Southwest Ave. F, this building was converted into the junior high school.

LAST CURTAIN CALL—When the curtain came down on the final act of the Junior Class play Mar. 20, no one could have know that it would be the last public performance to be staged in the public school auditorium in the junior high school building. Here, the twisted beams, the crumbled walls are all that remain of a facility that had accommodated as many as 1,000 (according to early day newspaper reports). The structure was destroyed by fire during the early morning hours Wednesday, Mar. 26.

Cancer's Warning Signals

'If you don't know Cancer's Warning Signals, how do you know you haven't got one?" says Mrs. Othell Sipe, chairman of the Hamlin Cancer Crusade.

That's a good question, and it's one that is being asked of diagnosis of cancer. But it's everyone in Hamlin along with volunteers of the American Cancer Society as the Society's annual fundraising and educational Crusade gets underway this

The local drive will be held here by volunteers under the direction of Mrs. Sipe. The drive opens Apr. 8 and the main door-to-door canvass will be held Thursday, Apr.

Cancer is a silent, usually painless disease in its early stages and so often its Warning Signals are fairly common complaints - things like heartburn or a cough or a change in bathroom habits.

"Common complaints, but they are man's valuable clues to cancer - a disease that has to be caught early and treated promptly and properly for the best chance of cure, Mrs. Sipe explained.

This April, the ACS fundraising and educational Crusade involves the teaching of cancer's Seven Warning Signals. This teaching is being done by ACS volunteers in person, by the Society through the press and on TV; and especially by the distribution of a colorful leaflet. "Actually, 45 million of these leaflets will be passed out nationwide!" she

A sore that does not heal. Unusual bleeding or discharge: Thickening or lump in the breast or elsewhere: Indigestion or difficulty in swallowing;

Obvious change in a wart or

Nagging cough or hoarse-

"All of these signs are rather ordinary, but if a condition persists - see a physician. Remember this is a Warning Signal, not a up to a physician to understand what your body is trying to tell you. If it's a flase alarm, he'll tell you. If it isn't, you will have reached him in time for help.'

As this ACS volunteer put it, "Our slogan this year is everyone's dream - "We Want to Wipe Out Cancer in Your Lifetime." To do that we need your dollars to support vital research and programs of public and professional education, and service, and rehabilitation to the cancer patient, Mrs. Sipe added

CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS—

Constitutional Revision Making Headway

AUSTIN -- Constitutional revision, widely regarded as an almost impossible task for the legislature this year, may be moving along faster than any of the session's "big three" items.

Revision panels of the House and Senate voted out proposals almost identical to three votes in the 1974 Constitutional Convention. Education finance reform and utilities regulation have not moved so far so fast.

Senators brought up the plan Tuesday (April 1) for floor consideration on an article-by-article basis.

The House is expected to follow the same procedure. A two-thirds vote will be necessary on each article before it can be submitted to the voters for approval or rejection in a state-wide election next November.

None of the controversial separate submission" items like right-to-work-which split and doomed the 1974 convention-are included in the present resolutions.

Apparently, if article-byarticle revision fails, the legislature will offer a plan for a new citizens' convention comply with federal policies to try its hand at revision next

PRIMARY ADVANCES

Drive for a Texas presidential preference primary gathered momentum in spite of some stubborn opposition from political convention-oriented liberals and George Wallace sup-

The Senate State Affairs Committee gave its approval to a revised and improved version of the House-passed primary bill, and quick Senate passage was anticipated. The measure still calls for a vote in May on presidential candidates who decide to the document which failed by enter the Texas primary. Seventy-five per cent of the state's presidential nominating delegates will be named on a senatorial (or congressional) district basis. Another 25 per cent will be selected in state party conventions in accord with the percentage of the vote various candidates received in the primary.

An objectionable feature of the House bill which would have required candidates to file slates of delegates in all 31 senatorial districts to get on the ballot at all was removed. Liberal provisions also were made for uncommitted delegates to run individually or as a slate.

SPEED LIMIT SAME Legislators finally agreed on, and the governor signed, legislation extending the 55 miles per hour speed limit to and save $303 million a year in federal highway aid.

A threatened deadlock was quickly broken in the face of threats of heavy loss of federal funds. The present 55 mph law would have expired

These very common symptoms can sometimes signal something as serious as lung cancer, and the best way to protect yourself is to learn just what's happening in your body. Will it mean cancer? Probably not - but find out.

As the American Cancer Society says, "It's what you don't know about cancer that can hurt you." By that the ACS means that undetected cancer means untreated cancer and this is a disease that neither gets better nor goes away with the passage of time.

But, as 1,500,000 Americans cured of cancer have learned, chances of cure are best when a cancer patient is treated early in the course of
